ROOTS REGGAE / REGGAE POST 70's

Black Ship is the fruit of an old and long friendship. Together since more than ten years, and around this music full of history, the six musicians of Black Ship bring an authentic reggae music, original and timeless... Jamaican music lovers from 60's 70's, and every kind of vintage music, they bring a new vision to this music by a fusion retro futuristic which fits in the forefront of the musical trend. A come back to real instruments, which sound rock and surf, vocals harmony rythm'n'blues, soul, with actually impact like hip-hop, pop... That band is just next to the 70's reggae, and invite us to a new musical trip.

After one year of hard work, the first official EP « On The Sea » came out. At the same time, the band signed with 1001prodsrecords (Naâman's booker), Khanti Records label (Soom T, Devi Reed, Wyman Low...) and is distributed by PIAS. It's with a full and solid team that the Black Ship starts its ocean travel...

"The project's purpose is to bring a new wave to a very connoted music. Clearly inspired by the old school but enriched by the music of today. Reggae music is inseparable from its story, but we are not in the 70's, and we are not jamaican or rasta. However this music brought us, and gave us some good vibes. While we were recording and being faithful to Reggae music, we were looking for a real sound, vintage, authentic. We didn't want to fall into the new roots from today because we don't recognize ourselves in this kind of music. For us, it's a challenge : a new start from the golden age of Reggae music ! This is the fruit of our heritage from this legendary music and our life of boys from the 90's .."
